WHY THIS CASK IS UNUSUAL AT THIS PRICE POINT

The name. A well-known Speyside distillery, sold without naming the source. Secret Speyside is the trade name for casks from a famous Speyside distillery that, under the terms of its supply agreement, cannot be named when sold independently.

The maturation. Approximately 3 years are already done, so part of the hold is behind you.

The entry economics. At 420 bottles per cask the spirit cost is £8.15 per 70cl bottle before tax, the level you enter at.

02 / PRICING & OUTLOOK

Pricing & Outlook

What you pay against what the bottles sell for, and where the value can go.

This cask comes to the platform at £25 per litre of alcohol, a total of approximately £3,423. That works out to 420 bottles at a spirit cost of £8.15 per 70cl bottle before tax. Verified single-bottle retail comparables for this line are limited, which is itself part of the scarcity, so the case rests on entry economics and the platform's realised exit record on the following page.

AVERAGE REALISED RETURN ON EXITED CASKS

Realised on client casks of this product that have already exited.

Not a forecast. Entry economics are the anchor here, value at exit depends on demand and condition at the time.

04 / PLATFORM PRECEDENT

Platform Precedent

Clients have already bought and exited this exact product on the platform.

This is not a new, untested line. 2 clients / 2 casks of this exact product have already completed a full buy-and-exit cycle on Decant Index. Across those exits the average realised return was 23.1% over an average hold of 27 months.

Reading the data

These figures are realised, not modelled: they reflect the difference between what clients paid and what they received on exit for this same product. They are historic and specific to those casks, and do not guarantee the same outcome for stock bought today.

Annual return is the average total return annualised over the average hold.

Recent-vintage casks tend to show shorter holds and lower totals simply because they have had less time to mature, so read the figures together.

Past performance does not guarantee future returns. Short holding periods can be impacted by storage and insurance costs and price volatility. Each cask has a recommended minimum holding period.

05 / THE DISTILLERY

The Distillery

A well-known Speyside distillery, sold without naming the source.

Secret Speyside is the trade name for casks from a famous Speyside distillery that, under the terms of its supply agreement, cannot be named when sold independently. This is a common and entirely legitimate practice in the whisky industry: a number of the most recognisable distilleries place strict conditions on naming when their casks leave through third parties, so the stock is sold under a regional label instead.

What can be said is that this is Speyside spirit, the most celebrated whisky region in Scotland, home to the highest concentration of distilleries and the fruity, elegant style that defines classic single malt. The anonymity is exactly what keeps the entry price sharp: you are buying the liquid and the region rather than paying a premium for the name on the label.

The cask offered here is a ex-bourbon fill, approximately 3 years matured, held in HMRC-bonded storage at Alloa in Scotland. It comes to the platform at £25 per litre of alcohol, roughly £3,423 per cask, a spirit cost of £8.15 per 70cl bottle before tax.

A recognisable name behind it

The source is a distillery most buyers would know, but the naming restriction keeps the price well below what the same liquid would command with its label attached.

2

Classic Speyside profile

Speyside is the heartland of single malt, and its fruity, approachable style is the easiest category to sell on to a broad audience.

3

Value through anonymity

Because the case rests on region and liquid rather than brand, the entry economics are sharper than a named equivalent of the same age and quality.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Past performance does not guarantee future returns. Short holding periods can be impacted by storage and insurance costs and price volatility. Each cask has a recommended minimum holding period. Cask investment involves capital at risk and is not suitable for all investors. The value of cask whisky can fall as well as rise, and you may not get back the amount originally invested. Decant Index is not a regulated investment adviser. Information in this briefing is for general information only and does not constitute a personal recommendation, an offer, or financial advice. Independent advice should be sought where appropriate. Tax treatment depends on individual circumstances and may change. Annualised return figures are based on verified transactions on the Decant Index platform and are not a guarantee of future performance. Comparable bottle pricing is shown for context only and does not imply an exit value for the cask. Live retail pricing and cask listings are correct as at the date of this briefing and may change. Bottle yield is an estimate based on stated cask volume, ABV, and bottling at 46% ABV; actual yield will depend on angel's share, regauging, and bottling decisions.
